LOCATION: inside a brain that has been neurochemically rewired by trauma

MOOD: 😊 bored

MUSIC: The National - Terrible Love

Livejournal's "Writer's Block" question today: "What was your worst travel experience ever, and why?"

...

Oh, look. Triggery livejournal is triggery.

I'm getting better, aren't I? I see something like this, contemplate freaking out, and realize that it's just my endocrine system and amygdala detonating and there's no real reason to get upset.

So I get to watch my fight-or-flight response go off as a detached observer. Makes me feel like a sportscaster. "He's coming up on a bad PTSD night! Let's see if he makes the jump!"

Well, that only took two years. Wonder where I'll be with it in ten-- assuming I live that long, of course.

At least it's better than the (^&&)_*(flickr security questions.

This looks like a good idea.

...

This.

...

Little guy's not bad.

Gotta teach RHex
to smear.

This? This is not me. This is the operant conditioning talking.

I'm over here reading a book.
